

When did you trust yourself?

Think about a time when you truly trusted yourself and record your experience below.

What would be the benefits of trusting yourself more?

These might be benefits that are direct or indirect.

How would it be to trust yourself more?

How would it feel different if you trusted yourself more?