

How could you utilise collaborative power?

Think about a situation where the power balance doesn't feel quite right (i.e. someone or a group has a higher or lower level of power than seems appropriate). What could you do to redress the balance?