

How can you understand others better?

Could you listen more effectively? What could you ask them?

How can you be a more understanding person?

What could you do in everyday life to be more understanding?